

Institutional Mattresses for Health Care Facilities

At Page Foam Cushioned Products, we custom manufacture a full line of institutional mattresses designed to meet your safety requirements while providing you with tough durability and easy care. All of our mattresses are flame retardant and meet the TB-603 California fire code – and we can easily meet any state or local fire codes or standards. We'll create any mattress – foam or inner spring – to your exacting specifications to make sure that you get just the right product.
